Another Manufacturer Sold Us His Stock of Untrimmed Hats 1/2 Price

Last week's announcement, telling of a great purchase and sale of Untrimmed Hats, brought in another manufacturer, who said he also was sadly in need of cash and would like to "realize ready money" on his stock, which was too large for other firms. Being able to use the entire lot through our chain of five stores, and as dictators of the terms, we made the deal, and offer

SOCIETY.

Recent Weddings.

is employed in the State Department and his home is at Indianapolis. A wedding supper was served at the home of Mrs. Platt, after which the couple went to a hotel, where they remained until yesterday, when they left for Indianapolis, in order that the groom may vote Tuesday next.

The wedding next were Mrs. Mary West Platt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Seaman, Jr., Miss Julia West, Miss Winifred, Miss William, Miss Jennie Hand, Mr. Rozina Tifford, Miss Laura Platt, Miss Helen Gangle, Clements, Louis Platt, Stephen Seaman, C. C. Holmes, Brewster-Smith, Otis West, Frank MacD, Sinclair, Fred A. Brower, Capt. George West, Henry Gangle, Charles Platt and Master Clements Platt.

Mr. and Mrs. Solomon C. Kemm, Jr., who were married by Rev. Dr. Brundage of the Reformation Presbyterian Church, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stucker of this city, October 22, have returned home from their wedding journey, which included New York and other northern cities. They will be at home after December 1 at the Wood apartment house, 219 T street northeast.

A pretty wedding in which the contracting parties were Miss Fannie Nelson O'Rand and Mr. Louis Vincent Stevenson took place Saturday morning, November 2, at 11 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. O'Rand, 934 I street northwest. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. T. Huddle of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, in the presence of the immediate members of the respective families. At the conclusion of the happy service for an extended honeymoon trip through the north.

They will be at home to their friends on and after December 1, at 934 I street northwest.

Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Johnson announce the marriage of their daughter, Lida, to Mr. Matthew Butler Cox of Bristol, Tenn. At home after November 15 at 908 Anderson street, Bristol, Tenn.

St. Paul's Church Wednesday morning last was the scene of a quiet wedding, when Miss Anna Marguerite Breen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Breen, and Mr. Samuel C. Turley were married, with nuptial mass by Mr. James P. Macdon. The altar was beautifully decorated with white chrysanthemums and lighted tapers. The bride was becomingly attired in a smart, tailored suit of dark blue cloth, with a picture hat of velvet and plumes.

Miss Mayme Breen was her sister's only attendant, and wore a tailored suit of gray cloth, with a large black velvet hat and plumes. Mr. Vincent Smith was best man. Later Mr. and Mrs. Turley left for an extended southern honeymoon, visiting Palm Beach, St. Augustine and Atlanta. They will be at home to their friends after December 1 at the Earlington.

The Metropolitan Baptist Church was the scene of a pretty wedding Thursday, October 31, at 6 o'clock, when Miss Agnes G. Fisher, daughter of Mrs. Magdalene Fisher, and Mr. Daniel Shankle were the contracting parties. The church was beautifully decorated in palms and white chrysanthemums. The bride, who was escorted by her brother, Mr. Clarence Fisher, was becomingly dressed in a white gown of charmeuse decorated with marisette, and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor, Miss Bernice North, was gowned in pink charmeuse, veiled in green marisette, and carried Killarney roses. The ushers were Messrs. W. Jeff. E. Clark, J. Shankle and E. Shankle. Mr. and Mrs. Shankle left for an extended trip south, and will be at home after November 15, at 220 15th street northeast.

At the marriage of Miss Katrina Page Brown and Mr. Austin Percy Brown, which took place in the new Spanish Catholic Church, the bride, who was escorted by her grandfather, Judge Pryor, wore the dress of white satin, trimmed with old point lace, which belonged to her grandmother, the late Mrs. Roger A. Pryor, and her tulle veil, which was surmounted by a chaplet of orange blossoms, fell to the end of her train. Her only ornament was a diamond pendant, in the shape of a heart, the gift of the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Willis Polk of San Francisco. She carried a small bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride roses.

Misses Agnes and Lucy Page Brown, sisters of the bride, acted as bridesmaids. Each carried an armful of Killarney roses. The bride's favorite rose, Miss Agnes Page Brown's costume was a short-length frock of very pale pink chiffon over lavender, with touches of sable fur, and her sister wore a similar frock of blue. Both wore black velvet picture hats with a band of sable, topped with a large pink rose. Little Miss Pryor, a cousin of the bride, who was flower girl, appeared in a lingelette frock of Irish lace over pink silk, and a small hat of black velvet, and carried a basket of Killarney roses and white daisies, with streamers of pink ribbon.

To preserve the family tradition, Miss Dorothy Conover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Little, Jr., of that city, which took place in the same home where her grandmother and mother were also born and were married.

Mr. Jesse William Meyer and Miss Frances Virginia Maher, daughter of Lieut. and Mrs. George B. Maher of this city, were married Thursday morning at the Church of the Nativity by Rev. Father Bluffard. After an extended trip through the south and west, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer will be at home to their friends at 1300 Madison street after December 15.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Myrtle Crossbie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Richards of Baltimore, Md., and Mr. Warren Lowe Baker of this city, June 16, 1912, at Annapolis, Md.

The marriage of Mrs. Rowena New Burford and Frederick C. Burford, which took place recently at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. John C. New, in Indianapolis, was marked with simple elegance. The wedding guests were only the relatives, and there were no attendants, the bride's brother, Harry S. New, giving her away. The ceremony was pronounced by the Rev. Allan S. Philpott of the Central Christian Church. The bride wore a gown of white and yellow chrysanthemums, and the music room was banked with flowers. The bride wore an afternoon gown of blue and white and a brocade veil, elaborated with lace and crystal sequins and fastened with a long train. She wore a handsome diamond necklace and pendant of pearls and diamonds. Following the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast. Covers were laid for fourteen, and the table appointments were all in pink. For the center of the table there was a mass of large pink roses, and smaller roses were set amid ferns and smilax the full length of the table. The bride, following the ceremony Mr. Whitlock took his bride for a trip through the east, and they will take a voyage to the Bahamas at the White House on the evening of December 1. They will be at home with Mrs. New. The bride is the daughter of the late John Chaffin New, who was United States treasurer and later consul general to London under President Benjamin Harrison.

Coming Marriages.

The announcement made by Mrs. Grover Cleveland of her engagement to Thomas J. Preston, professor of archeology and history of arts at Wells College, was the most interesting of its kind the past week. The date of the marriage is not yet determined, but it is expected to be an early spring event.

President Cleveland and Miss Frances Polson were married in the blue room at the White House on the evening of June 2, 1886. Plenty of people here remember the lovely night, when all of Washington literally lit its eyes on the White House while all the church bells were ringing and only the cabinet families on the relatives of the President and his bride witnessed the ceremony, at which Rev. Dr. Sunderland officiated. The honeymoon was spent at New York. Mrs. Cleveland's father was Oscar Polson of Buffalo, former law partner of Grover Cleveland when he was practicing law in Ohio. He died in 1870, when his daughter was eleven years old. Mrs. Polson was born in Buffalo on July 21, 1864. She was graduated from Wells College, at Yonkers, N. Y., in 1886, a year before her marriage to her father's old partner, who was twenty-seven years her senior. This interval she spent abroad.

She proved herself one of the most popular mistresses of the White House. The bride was only twenty-two years old when she became the "first lady of the land."

Her first child, Ruth, who died, was born in the White House in 1891. Eater, whose formal debut will take place shortly, was born in 1893 and Martin in 1895. Her only son, Richard F., was born in 1897. The engagement of her daughter, Miss Dorothy, to Mr. Preston, son of Prof. Andrew West of Princeton, has been rumored several times recently.

After his retirement from the presidency Mr. Cleveland made his permanent home in Princeton, and Mrs. Cleveland has continued to reside there since the former President died, in 1908. Her two daughters, Richard F. and Mrs. Preston, are living with her there. She spent one year in Europe with her children.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, parents of the bridegroom-to-be, live in North Orange, N. J. Mrs. Preston has been quoted as being greatly pleased with her son's choice. She said in this interview that she immediately followed that was after a successful business career and a residence abroad with her husband, and her return to Princeton. Prof. Preston's sister is Mrs. P. Jones, also of Orange, N. J.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Mrs. A. Elizabeth Speer, daughter of Mr. J. H. Brinker, and Mr. Herbert Austin Davis. The ceremony will take place next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Westminster Church Memorial.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis will be at home after December 1 at the Walton, 1418 I street northwest.

Another wedding of next Wednesday evening will be that of Miss Mary Louise Brinker, daughter of Gen. J. H. Brinker, and Mr. William H. Brinker, Jr. The ceremony will take place at 2 o'clock in the apartment of Gen. Brinker, at the Alabama. Miss Lamar Ross of Jackson, Miss., will attend her sister as matron of honor and Mr. Zed Brinker, Decatur, U. S. A., will be the maid of honor. Mr. O. C. Brothers will be the best man. A small reception will follow. Dr. and Mrs. Ivy will make their future home in Mississippi.

Miss Alice Willard Boyd, daughter of Dr. John C. Boyd, U. S. N., and Mrs. Boyd, will be married to Dr. A. Camp St. N. by Rev. Dr. J. H. Brinker, Decatur, U. S. A., in Epiphany Church. Dr. and Mrs. Boyd and Miss Boyd returned to Washington after a trip to Europe. They will be at home after December 1 at the Belmont, 1418 I street northwest.

Waggaman of this city and Miss Louise Miller of Winchester, Va., will be bridesmaids. Mr. John M. Waggaman will be best man for his brother and Messrs. William Sturges, J. E. Book, Archibald King, Delos Smith, Harold Goodwin and Ernest F. Mechlun, ushers. A small reception for the bride and her relatives will follow at the White home.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Dorothy Hoyes of New York, formerly of Philadelphia. The marriage will take place late in November and will be a very quiet affair.

The engagement of Miss Dorothy Hoyes of New York, formerly of Philadelphia. The marriage will take place late in November and will be a very quiet affair.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Alice Moncheur, daughter of Baron Ludovic Moncheur, who is now Belgian ambassador to Constantinople, to L. F. Love of New York and West Orange, N. J. Miss Moncheur's father was for several years the Belgian ambassador at Washington, D. C.

The marriage of Miss Frances Beardsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beardsley, to Mr. Frederick Leonard Devereux will take place at the Hotel Hamilton on the evening of November 20, at 9 o'clock. Miss Cornelia Meyer Smith of this city, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Smith, Jr., will be maid of honor and Miss Nellie Cohn of New York will be best man. Mr. and Mrs. Clark and Miss Clark returned yesterday from New York and are at the Hamilton.

An interesting wedding of this week will be that of Miss Grazielle Virginia Bulkeley, daughter of Mrs. William Andrew Smith, to Mr. Bayard Hyde Smith of San Francisco.

The ceremony will take place Wednesday evening in the apartment at the Portland of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Bulkeley, widow of Dr. Bulkeley, of this city, and will be followed by a reception. Monsignor Shanahan, rector of the Catholic University will officiate. Miss Nellie Bulkeley, the bride's cousin, will be her only attendant. Mr. Hyde Smith will take his bride to Europe, where they will spend a year in travel.

Mrs. Thomas L. Shields of Pittsburgh has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Mary Whittey Shields, a debutante of several seasons ago, to Lieut. Richard D. Seaman, 11th United States Cavalry. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Goldsmith will give a large reception next Thursday night at Raucher's to mark the engagement of their daughter, Annette to Mr. William B. Thudmer, Richmond, Va. The wedding of the couple will take place in January.

Pittsburgh, and their daughter, Miss Jean Oliver, will open their house on Massachusetts avenue within the next ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Legare, who have been in Europe since the spring, are expected about November 19 at their home on Farragut square.

Mr. and Mrs. George Howard are back at their 1821 street home for the winter, and where in early December Miss Margaret Perin will be presented. Mrs. Howard will give a Christmas week dinner dance at the Playhouse for her daughter also.

Mr. Gardner Williams and Miss Dorothy Williams are going to California shortly for a visit before settling down here for the winter.

Judge and Mrs. Judson C. Clements, who have returned here for the winter, will present their eldest daughter, Miss Claudine Clements, to their friends at a tea this season, the date for which will be arranged during the week. Miss Clements was graduated from Wellesley College in June, bearing away a number of honors, among them a creek scholarship. She is versatile and attractive and will be one of the most interesting girls ever introduced here. Judge Clements, who is now an interstate commerce commissioner, was formerly a representative in the House from Georgia.

Miss Lanette Heines Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando H. Smith, is to be presented to society at an evening reception at Raucher's Saturday, December 14.

Mrs. Hoke Smith and the Misses Hoke Smith are expected in Washington this week. Senator Hoke Smith has recently purchased a new residence on California avenue and it is all ready for the family to take possession.

The marriage of Miss Lucy Hoke Smith and Lieut. Aiston R. Simpson, U. S. A., will be an event of the early winter. Commander and Mrs. Edward F. Quailtrough are moving this week to their new home, 1714 I street. Last year Mrs. Quailtrough spent the winter abroad, accompanied by her niece, Miss Lelia Harrison, who will be a debutante the coming winter. Miss Harrison is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Harrison, who will give an early January ball for their daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Boardman will give a large reception prior to Miss Mary Shreve Ames' ball, in compliment to her debutante niece, Miss Olivia Ames, Monday, December 2, in Boston. Mrs. Boardman is taking an unusual interest in the debutante gayeries this year, since her only sister, Miss Gadye Munn, is to be presented later on in this city.

Mrs. Horatio Appleton Lamb of Boston is giving a large dinner for young people the evening of Thursday, November 14, at 1418 I street. Last year Mrs. Lodge has arranged that night in compliment to his debutante granddaughter, Miss Constance Gardner. Mrs. Lamb's dinner is in honor of her debutante daughter, Miss Almee Lamb.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Garrison McClellan are back at their residence for the winter. Their young daughter, Miss Katherine McClellan, who has been mentioned among the winter's debutantes, is still a schoolgirl, and therefore not in the list this year.

Judge and Mrs. Fenton W. Booth are also in town for the winter. Their daughter is also a school girl, with a debut, still far in the future. Mr. and Mrs. William Wheatley have returned after a year's absence abroad, and will open at once their home at 2023 Q street northwest.

WHY DON'T YOU TAKE BETTER CARE OF YOUR HAIR!

Don't let it turn grey. Don't let the Dandruff get a foothold and start the hair falling out.

It's not natural that young women should have thin grey hair that they cannot dress becomingly.

It should always be natural-colored—luxuriant—full of life and radiance—free from ugly grey hairs and annoying Dandruff. Nature intended that a woman's hair should be one of her chief attractions.

Why not help her to keep it so?
